

Nashville Farmers' Market Grow Local Kitchen User Handbook

Updated February 2024

Overview: The Grow Local Kitchen (GLK) was founded at the Nashville Farmers' Market in 2012 to offer a space for startup food entrepreneurs to incubate their businesses, as well as offer a demonstration and workshop kitchen space for food artisans and community organizations. Located in the heart of the indoor market house, our pop-up kitchen provides a vibrant and diverse line-up of rotating food options for visitors to the market.

For GLK users, the space provides a platform to introduce your cuisine and food service concepts to the greater Nashville community, including potential investors. The rentable kitchen program is outfitted with essential, commercial-grade kitchen equipment and tools to help you turn your ideas and dreams into reality. The GLK has fostered the growth of many of Nashville's best food concepts into fully operational restaurants, such as the market's own Succulent Vegan Tacos. Ultimately, the goal of the GLK is for your business to outgrow our program into a thriving permanent location of your own.

About the Nashville Farmers' Market: The market operates daily as a retail hub and small business incubation center for farmers, artisans, and small businesses that desire to serve the region. The market is located on a 12-acre property in the urban core of Nashville, within walking distance of many local neighborhoods, including Germantown, Salemtown, the Gulch and the downtown district. The public facility includes two outdoor sheds, a garden center, and a food hall with roughly 25 diverse dining options and retail stores.

Mission statement: Curating an inclusive destination marketplace that fosters a connection between our community and the farmers, foods, and artisans who contribute to our food system.

6. Select payment method via The Food Corridor (credit/debit or ACH).
7. Schedule onboarding meeting with the Program Manager.

Approval and agreement

Approval: The purpose of the Grow Local Kitchen is to help developing food concepts incubate into successful businesses by offering a startup option with low overhead costs where they can develop a regular clientele. As such, market management will prioritize applications of users that do not currently have permanent business locations such as brick-and-mortar restaurants or food trucks operating for more than one year. Established businesses looking to test a new concept outside of their regular operations may be considered for the program. However, food service concepts that duplicate offerings of market house tenants will not be considered, unless given written approval by market management for a specific exemption.

Kitchen users may be asked to provide additional information, documentation or samples before client approval and onboarding. Approval is done at the sole discretion of market management, taking in consideration factors including:

- Requested schedule
- Product mix
- Shift readiness
- History of policy adherence and account status (for returning kitchen users)

Types of kitchen users: The Grow Local Kitchen offers four types of rental options for its kitchen users:

- Single day pop ups: Single day pop-ups provide variety and excitement to the Grow Local Kitchen program. These can be food service concepts that are seeking to stop into the kitchen just one time as a special promotion or on a more regular basis.
- GLK residencies: A limited number of residencies will be available to outstanding startup business concepts on a six-month or yearly agreement. GLK residents should exhibit exemplary menu, merchandising and marketing skills. Additionally, GLK residents are expected to assist in monthly deep cleaning of the kitchen space to occur on the first Monday of each month. Benefits to residents include: regular scheduling, a reduced rental rate and increased promotion and visibility in the market's marketing and communications, including a listing at nashvillefarmersmarket.org. The residency program is still in development and not yet available for GLK users.
- Workshops / demonstrations: Food artisans, chefs, culinary businesses and nonprofits are encouraged to host food preparation classes, nutrition workshops and other cooking demonstrations in the GLK in order to reach a wide audience. AM rentals that occur during regular GLK operating hours are offered at a higher rate than PM rentals (see Rates below). However, limited customer traffic in the evening allows workshop hosts the ability to charge ticket/attendance fees for their event.
- Prep shifts: All pop-up shifts have a built-in three hour prep period in which users can prepare the foods they will be serving in the GLK's permitted kitchen space. If you require more time to prep before your shift, you may request an off-peak hours prep rental. Prep rentals are subject to all operational policies and procedures. GLK users may not serve food prepared in a home kitchen.

Security: Security personnel are on market property to provide public safety and regulate after-hours entrance to the premises. Only authorized persons will be permitted to enter after hours. Call 911 if there is a medical emergency. If you need to report a safety or security concern, please contact a member of the security team immediately at (615) 710-3578.

Although the market has on-site security 24/7, securing individual property, including merchandise, tip jars and cash boxes, is the sole responsibility of each kitchen user. If you believe something has been stolen from you during your shift, it is up to you to file a police report if you believe the theft warrants it.

Janitorial services: Janitorial services are contracted to provide cleaning and sanitation of common areas, restrooms, waste receptacles and grounds. If there is a janitorial issue, please contact market management or security personnel to report the issue immediately. However, cleaning of the GLK, its equipment and small wares is the sole responsibility of the kitchen user on shift that day. See pages 13 and 14 for a full explanation of cleaning/closing expectations.

Before your first shift

Onboarding: Once your application is reviewed and you are approved as a client of Grow Local at Nashville Farmers' Market, you will be contacted to schedule a meeting with the market's Program Manager. During this meeting, you will discuss expectations for use of the kitchen, schedule availability, sign your agreement, tour the kitchen area and more in preparation for your first shift. Please come prepared with questions you may have about the Grow Local Kitchen.

After onboarding, you will be scheduled for an initial trial shift based on your availability and that of the kitchen to ensure the GLK program is a good fit for your business.

Agreement: While onboarding, new kitchen users will sign a kitchen agreement during the scheduled onboarding meeting. A valid, government-issued photo ID is required to sign the agreement. Agreements must be signed before accessing the kitchen as a rental. New agreements will be signed annually at the end of each year for the following calendar year.

Scheduling: Shifts will be scheduled with a minimum of 30 days' notice for pop-ups via email from the Program Manager. Typically, shifts will be sent on the first of the month for the following month's schedule, i.e. January's shifts will be sent out December 1. Resident schedules will be confirmed during the agreement signing process. You must add a payment method to your account before bookings can be confirmed. Lunch shifts are available Tuesday-Sunday. These shifts are offered at a minimum of 8-hours for pop-up or residency rentals from 8 a.m. - 4 p.m. However, you may request additional prep or service time outside of this time frame, subject to availability.

Scheduling is done at the sole discretion of market management to ensure a variety of food options. The Grow Local Kitchen's full scheduled line-up of participating food businesses is available at nashvillefarmersmarket.org.

Payment: All kitchen users are expected to make regular payment via The Food Corridor. GLK residents and any other monthly fees such as storage will be invoiced on the 5th of the month for that month's rentals. Pop-ups will be invoiced for individual shifts at midnight following their completed shift. It is each user's responsibility to remain in good standing. Any past due payments carried into a new month are subject to late fee charges ($50) and can result in suspension of rentals on repeated offense.

Kitchen users may pay via credit / debit card or ACH by selecting their preferred payment method on The Food Corridor account. The payment method on file will be automatically billed on the invoice date via Stripe as a secure payment. You will see the charge on your payment account as “Nashville Farmers-Grow.” In-person payments will not be accepted. Rejected payments are considered a policy violation, and, in addition to the procedure outlined in your GLK user agreement, must be paid in full before resuming future scheduled shifts. Unpaid balances in excess of 60 days may result in a cancellation of any future shifts, as well as submission to Metro’s Payment Collections department.

Reservation cancellation, no-shows and refund requests: Upon approval of the kitchen user’s scheduled shifts, the user accepts responsibility for each approved date. Pop-up shifts may be amended or canceled by written request to market management 14 days in advance of the shift. Pop-ups are responsible for all rental fees for bookings canceled in less than 14 days of the shift. GLK residents must submit a 30 day written notice to cancel residencies. You may use the GLK Slack channel group to find coverage for a shift. Requests for refunds or credits will not be provided unless accompanied by a written approval from market management. No shows will forfeit rental fees and are subject to immediate cancellation of all future shifts. In the event of a family or medical emergency, please contact the market’s Program Manager as soon as possible if you will need to miss your shift.

What to bring: GLK users will have access to all of the equipment and small wares listed on pages 4 and 5. In addition to any food items and product you may need during your shift, please be sure to bring any of the following that you may need:

- Register equipped with point of sale system
- Hotspot or other private wifi device
- Cash box
- Tip jar
- Menu signs (max. 36” H x 24” W)
- Business banners (max. 24” H x 60” W)
- Knives
- Gloves
- Special tools / small wares
- Small appliances (i.e. tabletop fryer)
- Towels / linens / aprons
- Plastic wrap / aluminum foil
- Food storage containers

Additionally, kitchen users are required to bring their own packaging for their meals. The market strongly encourages the use of compostable or recyclable containers, as we have disposal options for both available to kitchen users and customers alike. Use of Styrofoam is prohibited.

Marketing: Although the market seeks to actively promote all businesses, Grow Local Kitchen users are responsible for their own marketing and social media presence. Kitchen users are required to maintain their social media presence by actively posting in advance of and during their shifts to engage customers. In general, businesses who engage in regular social media promotions tend to have higher daily sales than those who don’t. Additionally, kitchen users must tag Grow Local Kitchen on Instagram posts related to their shifts and may also tag Nashville Farmers’ Market on any Instagram or Facebook so that we may reshare your promotions with our expansive follower base.

During your shift

Hours: GLK shifts run from 8 a.m. - 4 p.m., Tuesday-Sunday, with required opening hours of 11 a.m. - 3 p.m. per scheduled shift. GLK users will have a three-hour prep period from 8 - 11 a.m. to make any food items you will need during a shift. However, if ready to serve, you may begin selling before 11 a.m.

Kitchen users should plan a minimum cleaning and closing period of one hour from 3 - 4 p.m. Failure to properly clean the kitchen and reset it for the next shift will result in fines and further action. Time spent in the kitchen in excess of the eight-hour rental period will result in $20 / hour additional rental fees, and can result in cancellation of future shifts if your excess rental period conflicts with another GLK rental.

Check In: You must check in to each shift via The Food Corridor before beginning your rental period using your account pin, which is available on your login page.

Loading / parking: Grow Local Kitchen users may pull into the iron gated area between the market house and farm sheds to load in during 8 - 9 a.m. and load out during 3 - 4 p.m. During loading times, you may briefly park alongside the market house using hazard lights to signify temporary parking. Vehicles must be re-parked before the loading window ends. Improperly parked vehicles are subject to tow at the owner's expense.

Grow Local Kitchen users may park in the main Nashville Farmers' Market lot during their scheduled shift only. This lot is located along Rosa L. Parks Boulevard, southwest of the market house building and directly next to the outdoor farm sheds. Grow Local Kitchen users are not permitted to park in the lot between the market and the TN State Museum or any of the two-hour parking spaces off 7th Avenue. For weekend kitchen users, additional parking is available in the State employee parking lots located off 6th Avenue across from Bicentennial Mall.

Menu: GLK users must submit a menu to the market's Program Manager for approval. GLK users are highly encouraged to take advantage of seasonal specials and new menu items to engage customers. If you wish to add items, specials or make other changes to your approved menu, you must submit those requests 48 hours in advance of your shift. This includes pre-packaged beverages. Selling unapproved items constitutes a policy violation. GLK users are required to display their menu with menu items and prices listed. It is encouraged, but not required, to provide additional information about your dishes, including ingredients and allergen information, on your menu signage.

Business signage: Kitchen users are required to display signage of their company name during their shifts. Signage may be securely hung or placed within the GLK area only. A-frame signage is not permitted to be placed in market house walkways. It is encouraged that your signage includes contact information including your website's URL, social media handles and an email address/phone number so that customers can engage with you before and after shifts. Signage may be hung anywhere along the main counter, affixed to columns in the kitchen, placed on the counters or securely attached to the plexiglass guard in areas where GLK signage is not hung. Signage may not be hung from the kitchen's hood. When removing signage, you must remove all residue left from tape or other hanging materials.

No signs, banners or advertising material may be placed on any area outside of the GLK area. Use of nails and screws to hang signage is prohibited. All signage must be removed after each shift. Hanging or attaching anything to gutters and downspouts of the buildings or sheds is prohibited. Hanging or attaching anything to the rafters is prohibited unless the vendor has received prior written approval from market management.

Food safety: All food preparation must be done in a permitted kitchen. Foods cooked in home kitchens are not to be served during GLK shifts. Kitchen users are required to operate their food service in accordance with all Metro Health Department standards. Hot foods must be kept hot and cold foods kept cold for the entirety of your shift. Foods may not be allowed to enter the "temperature danger zone" (between 135°F and 40°F). Wash your hands regularly and use gloves when handling ready-to-eat foods.

Maintain good personal hygiene and a sanitary work environment. Know where sanitizer test strips are and how to use them.

Customer service: Kitchen users are required to provide excellent customer service to all customers during their GLK shifts. Be ready on time, greet each customer, be respectful and positive when interacting with customers, acknowledge waiting customers and be aware of how many are waiting to order/pick-up (add staff to your shifts to speed up customer service if necessary). Remember to pace your orders and sales with your kitchen staff's capacity. Train staff to be knowledgeable on the flavor, ingredients and possible allergens associated with your dishes. The GLK has an open kitchen layout, so kitchen users should anticipate interacting with customers whether cooking, taking orders, etc.

Sampling: Kitchen users are permitted to serve product samples to visitors in single servings that can easily be grabbed individually. All food samples must be kept at proper food safety temperatures and abide by all regular Metro Nashville Health Department guidelines.

Storage: A limited amount of on-site storage options are available for kitchen users. Dry, cold and freezer storage is available for monthly rental by the shelf. Priority for storage placement will be given to current residents. Please contact the market's Program Manager to reserve storage space.

Garbage / refuse: The Nashville Farmers' Market offers recycling, compost and landfill waste collection at the on-premises waste center. All recycling, compost and garbage must be removed from the GLK and placed in the appropriate bin at the end of each day. To keep the market area clean and presentable for customers, kitchen users must break down boxes, store trash in an orderly manner and bring any excessive refuse to the waste center throughout their shifts as needed.

Alcoholic beverages and other controlled substances: Sale and consumption of alcoholic beverages, including beer, wine and liquor, is prohibited in the Grow Local Kitchen, except with written permission from market management and proper permitting. No illegal substances shall be consumed, kept, bought, or sold in any rental space or other market locations. Smoking and vaping are prohibited on market grounds (inside the iron gates, patio areas, farm sheds, garden center and market house).

Rules of conduct: Nashville Farmers' Market management expects all kitchen users, as well as their staff, to conduct themselves in a manner that contributes to a positive experience for market guests. Kitchen users may not leave the kitchen area unattended during their rented shift time frame. Children and pets are not allowed in the GLK area. Market management expects all vendors and merchants at the market to be honest and to conduct themselves in a courteous and friendly manner. Inappropriate conduct or language toward other vendors, customers; or management - whether in person or by electronic media - will not be tolerated and may be grounds for immediate termination and dismissal from the market.

Harassment-free workplace: The following is applicable to all vendors and their staff, market staff, service providers and board members. The Nashville Farmers' Market is committed to a work environment in which all individuals are treated with respect and dignity. Everyone has the right to work in a professional atmosphere that promotes equal employment opportunities and prohibits unlawful discriminatory practices including harassment. Therefore, market management expects that all relationships among persons in the office and markets will be businesslike and free of bias, prejudice and harassment. It is the policy of the Nashville Farmers' Market to ensure equal employment opportunity without discrimination or harassment on the basis of race, color, religion, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, immigration status, age, disability, genetic information, marital status, amnesty or status as a covered veteran. The Nashville Farmers' Market prohibits any such discrimination or harassment. Anyone who experiences harassment is encouraged to report the incident to market management. Any vendor found to be violating this policy is subject to possible suspension or expulsion from the market. Please see the appendix on page 12 for a full definition of harassment.

After your shift

Sales reporting: GLK users are required to submit a monthly report that outlines each of their shift's sales and their total monthly sales. Sales reports must be submitted by the 10th of the following month to the market's Program Manager. Failure to report sales constitutes a policy violation.

Cleaning: Market management expects Grow Local Kitchen users to clean as they go during shift to maintain a tidy and sanitary kitchen environment during service. The GLK and its users are subject to inspection from the Health Department at any time, so users must operate in an organized, clean way that is conducive to maintaining perfect inspection scores. The market provides all cleaning supplies and equipment needed to maintain a safe, healthy and appealing cooking environment.

Cleaning supply list:

- Scouring pads
- Sponges
- Paper towels
- Hand soap
- Dish detergent
- Sanitizer
- Dish machine detergent
- High temp flat top cleaner
- Floor cleaner
- All-purpose cleaner
- Degreaser
- Stainless steel polish
- Grill bricks
- Squeegee
- Mop and mop bucket
- Broom and dust pan
- Trash cans with liners
- Sanitizer test strips

From counters to floors, equipment and cabinets, inside fridges and in the dishpit, GLK users must leave the kitchen in a clean and rentable state. All market-owned small wares must be cleaned and put away from where they were originally sourced. The cleaning chemical cage must remain closed during food service and locked after cleaning is complete. Fridges and freezers must be completely empty and wiped down of food debris before the end of each shift. Storage of any personal or business items in the GLK is strictly prohibited without written approval from market management. Items left in the GLK are subject to removal and disposal. Remember: this is a shared kitchen space so you should leave it in a condition that is respectful of the next small business owner using the space.

A full checklist of cleaning and closing expectations is available on page 11. You must fill out a closing checklist before the end of each shift. You can find blank copies of the closing checklist in the kitchen binder.

Incomplete cleaning and damaged property: Failure to properly clean the kitchen and reset it for the next renter will result in an immediate fine of $75. Multiple cleaning-related violations will result in suspension or cancellation of all future shifts. If equipment, small wares, tools or any other market property is damaged during your shift, you must alert the market's Program Manager immediately. Damage to GLK equipment or market property will result in a $100 fee per occurrence. However, if the equipment and / or property is damaged to the point of needing serious repair or being inoperable for an extended period of time, kitchen users will be charged the cost or repair or replacement and may be subject to suspension and/or termination of GLK agreement and scheduled shifts.

If you are concerned with the state of the kitchen, equipment and its cleanliness from the previous user, please contact the market's Program Manager immediately. Photo documentation of any issues reported will be required.

Check out: At the end of each shift, you must check out via The Food Corridor. When checking out of your completed shift on The Food Corridor, you may enter in notes regarding equipment issues, kitchen cleanliness or other information related to your time renting the GLK.

Definitions of harassment:

Sexual harassment constitutes discrimination and is illegal under federal, state and local laws. For the purposes of this policy, sexual harassment is defined, as in the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission Guidelines, as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when, for example:

- A) Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment
- B) Submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for employment decisions affecting such individuals
- C) Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive working environment-

Sexual harassment may include a range of subtle and not-so-subtle behaviors and may involve individuals of the same or different genders. Depending on the circumstances, these behaviors may include unwanted sexual advances or requests for sexual favors; sexual jokes and innuendo; verbal abuse of a sexual nature; commentary about an individual's body, sexual prowess or sexual deficiencies; leering, whistling or touching; insulting or obscene comments or gestures; display in the workplace of sexually suggestive objects or pictures; and other physical, verbal or visual conduct of a sexual nature.

Harassment on the basis of any other protected characteristic is also strictly prohibited. Under this policy, harassment is verbal, written or physical conduct that denigrates or shows hostility or aversion toward an individual because of their race, color, religion, gender, sexual orientation, national origin, immigration status or citizenship, age, disability, marital status, genetic information, veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law or that of their relatives, friends or associates, and that: a) has the purpose or effect of creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive work environment; b) has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work performance; or c) otherwise adversely affects an individual's employment opportunities.

Harassing conduct includes epithets, slurs or negative stereotyping; threatening, intimidating or hostile acts; denigrating jokes; and written or graphic material that denigrates or shows hostility or aversion toward an individual or group and that is placed on walls or elsewhere on the employer's premises or circulated in the workplace, on company time or using company equipment via email, phone (including voice messages), text messages, tweets, blogs, social networking sites or other means.

These policies apply to all applicants' employees and off-site markets where the Nashville Farmers' Market operates, whether related to conduct engaged in by fellow employees or someone not directly connected to the Nashville Farmers' Market (e.g., an outside vendor, consultant or customer). Conduct prohibited by these policies is unacceptable in the workplace and in any work-related setting outside the workplace, such as during business trips, business meetings and business-related social events.
